Fundraising Update - November 23, 2010

The November 2010 Launch of the Compassion Currency Campaign in Berkeley had a huge turn-out and succeeded in its goal of encouraging more young students to party with a purpose. Carlos Guerrero, the host, stated that the idea has inspired him to use all his future birthday parties to raise funds for Fertile Ground and support its mission to promote safer sexual practices amongst minorities. The costs of the event were covered by the event coordinator; Natasha Ismail who collected $250 from raffle tickets while circulating at the party informing guests about the cause. Clondy De La Rosa, a guest at the event commented that "This is the most diverse and well-catered house-party I ever saw, and even better is that the guys throwing it are the nicest people you could ever meet. They really care about others and you can feel it in the atmosphere."

The hosts would especially like to thank the chef; Stephen Mattai who despite being in such huge demand volunteered his time and outstanding skill to cook for the event.

If you wish to use one of your parties as an excuse to donate to our cause please don't hesitate to contact us and we will give you information to share with your guests and ideas on how to get the most from your party.
